

Publication

02/07/2022

Impact of COVID Delays on Examination of Trademark Applications

Ian Block, partner in the firm's Intellectual Property group, recently authored the article "Impact of COVID Delays on Examination of Trademark Applications," published by Thomson Reuters—Westlaw Today. Ian discusses key considerations for trademark applicants in the current environment, including filing earlier in their trademark development process, evaluating strategies for international filings, resolving issues directly with examiners, and more.

CLIENT SERVICES

Intellectual Property

Trademarks, Copyrights & Trade Secrets

RELATED PEOPLE

Ian J. Block